

Body Mass Index (BMI) Calculator

Members can now directly calculate Body Mass Index (BMI) by providing their height and weight data in the Castlight platform. BMI is strongly correlated with various metabolic and disease outcomes. Enabling members to know their calculated BMI and corresponding weight category (underweight, healthy, overweight or obese) will allow them to engage with relevant programs and track towards personal health goals over time. Our new BMI calculator can be found on the Health Profile page of the Castlight platform. Coming soon, Castlight will leverage height and weight data to further personalize program recommendations and educational content.

Incentivized Registration Referrals

Referrals from friends and family members are one of the most reliable ways to attract new members and drive engagement with Castlight and your benefits programs. Castlight allows any registered member to send a registration link to any eligible member and receive points for each successful registration. We introduced this feature to our customers last month and customers may now enable the incentivized registration program. Employers can determine the maximum number of points available to employees through this referral program. Members will find the opportunity to earn points under 'Ways to Earn' and in their Benefits tab and can share the registration link via text, email and other communication apps.
